By the time you see this, I'll be well into a new chapter in my life; marriage. Wow, can you believe it? On October 15, 2005 "i did the dam thang". Who would have ever thought someone would ever understand me, trust me, love me or even marry me. Ladies, take a look at my wedding ring finger now; this is the last photo you'll see me ringless in. My "wife" (never thought i'd use those words) is a wonderful person from the inside out. I sure hope you meet that special person you can trust, love, understand, support, and want to grow old with, I did and it's been the greatest times of my life.
